MINUTES FROM THE GENERAL MEETING

The general meeting was held August 5th at Jack Livingston's "Harmony Cabinet Shop". Vice President Ed Smith did another fine job running the meeting. The John Nyquist demonstration was mentioned as well as other opportunities such as Bob Babirad's wood sale party and a Colorado Revenue department sale.

It was also brought up that the last newsletter incorrectly stated that a t-shirt was given to the manager of the Woodworkers Store for hosting the July meeting. He was given a Guild t-shirt for the use of his store as an outlet for the Guild to sell our t-shirts.

Three demonstrations were given by Guild members. Dave Boykin demonstrated a two piece mold laminate bending technique that he had used to construct a number of guitar stands for a client. Ed Smith demonstrated some of the uses of mitre spring clamps. Dharma Gordon showed a cove cutting technique he had recently been doing on the table saw.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Show - Tony Brazzale expressed the need of a Guild registry with slides and information from members. More on this will accompany the next newsletter. He also said the committee had been looking into a gallery setting for the next show but that it seems to be at least six months away and that the registry is imperative. Also brought up was the potential opportunity of having some half hour cable TV programs on facets of woodworking by Guild members.

Education - The need for more member participation was expressed as well as the now standard time for the meetings, being every second Tuesday of the month. The wooden plane workshop was referred to the head of the Tools and Materials Committee since he is the instructor.

Tools and Materials - Steve Farnham spoke of the plane workshop. He also mentioned that there will be an abrasives order purchase at the September general meeting and a Jorgensen clamp order in November. Bring cash or checks. There was no need for a meeting in August.

Charles Lennahan, Treasurer, stated that there was $% $511.52 in the Guild treasury as of July 1st. The dip into administrative funds was discussed and Charles expressed the need of members supporting the Guild by buying Guild t-shirts. They are available at general meetings and at the Woodworkers Store for six dollars, including tax.

Host Jack Livingston talked about his new shop and the Architectural Woodworkers Institute. He mentioned that he was looking to rent part of his large shop to someone.
